1. Applicant's election of claims 5-14 is acknowledged.
2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter that the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 14 is currently dependent from now cancelled claim 15 and as such is incomplete.
4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
6. Claims 5-8,10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kimata 5,043,561. Kimata discloses a money card (figure 5) with multiple regions 50(a) and 50(b) and a plurality of printing regions for a plurality of times of use (exit and entrance). This information is printed on the card (col 9 lines 60+, col 13 lines 60+). Each time the card is passed through the card reader, the information on the card is read to update the information. However, Kimata does not disclose that the printed information is read, rather than the magnetically recorded data is read. However, optical reading of alphanumeric codes is old and well known. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to read the optical alphanumeric code already printed on the card. This would eliminate the need for the magnetic strip and the associated reader in the reading system, thus reducing the cost of the system.

7. Claims 9,11-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest one of ordinary skill in the art, in conjunction with all the other claimed limitations, the Reed-Solomon considerations of claim 9 and the border target markers of claim 11-13.

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ishigame et al 6,732,924 discloses a fare card system in which information is printed on "another" region of the card.
